

BEER on the wall

"Drinking Beer Promotes Freedom of Speech"

You Need it, We Got it!

Is your dad one of those people who seem to have everything? Please, we beg of you, do not give him yet another tie. On behalf of dads everywhere, we are giving you the wish list your dad hopes and prays you will shop from.

NEW

Have Your Brew & Drink It Too

You know the saying, "Have your cake and eat it too." Well here's a beer gift for those who want to, "Have your brew and drink it too!" This really cool beer gift set is perfect for any beer lover and comes with everything anyone would need to enjoy great craft brew.

NEW

Seasonal Six Pack

Our seasonal 6 pack sampler includes 6 different seasonal craft beers from some of the finest breweries on the west coast and is sure to please any beer lover; making it a great beer gift for Fathers Day.

Drink & Drive Beer Golf Gift

We're not talking about driving a car, we're talking about driving your golf ball down the fairway! This awesome beer gift basket includes a selection of award winning microbrews, an assortment of gourmet snacks and enough balls and tees to get them through a nice round of golf.

Arrogant Bastard

Includes an impressive bottle of Arrogant Bastard Ale, plus five other 22oz bottles of microbrews! The lucky beer lover also gets an Arrogant Bastard Ale T-shirt, a set of two awesome beer glasses, a gourmet bag of "Olde Tyme Kettle Corn", and a sweet confection.

OVER THE WALL

BEER OF THE MONTH CLUB

this month's featured beers

Big Sky Brewing Company

Big Sky Brewing Company was started by Neal Leathers, Bjorn Nabozney, and Brad Robinson. Brad and Neal had been home brewers in Michigan since the mid 1980's, and had moved to Missoula with a group of friends in the summer of 1990.

In the early '90s they met Bjorn. One of Brad's first nights in Missoula was spent at the old Iron Horse when it was attached to Bayern Brewing Company down at the end of Higgins Avenue. He was impressed by Bayern's lagers, but felt that there was room in Missoula for a second brewery; and since Neal and Brad specialized in brewing English style ales he felt that an ale brewery would be producing very different beers than Bayern Brewing Company did. Neal agreed, and the three began to work on starting up a brewery.

They brewed their first batch of beer, Whistle Pig Red Ale, in mid-June of 1995 and hit the market with it just in time for the 4th of July weekend. A couple of months later, Moose Drool Brown Ale and Scape Goat Pale Ale followed, and Big Sky Brewing Company was on its way.

The company was a draft only brewery (no bottled beer) for its first five and a half years. They brewed everything on Hickory Street, but they soon realized that had to find a way to put their beer into bottles. The Hickory Street brewery was not nearly large enough to allow for bottling, so they began working toward building a new brewery. Finally, in early 2002 they broke ground on their new brewery on Trumpeter Lane, began brewing in the new brewery in September of 2002, and started bottling their beer there in January of 2003.

Scape Goat Pale Ale

Don't blame yourself, you can blame Big Sky. Scape Goat is about to become your favorite beer. Or it will be when you taste it.

An award-winning Pale Ale, a very smooth brew, refreshing and well-balanced. Scape Goat took home the Gold Medal from the North American Brewers' Association competitions as the best English-style pale ale brewed west of the Mississippi, but only because it is the best. Scape Goat is brewed with pale, crystal malts, and Kent Goldings and Crystal Hops.

Trout Slayer

They say the best way to shrink a fish is with a ruler, but the best way to grow a fish is with a beer. Montana Trout Slayer is the beer to drink when you're knockin' back a couple of cold ones and tellin' fish stories. Who knows, the next one might be the best yet! "A bigger tale with every ale."

Trout Slayer is a filtered wheat ale, fermented at cool temperatures, making it a smooth drinkable beer. Brewed with Palisade, Glacier, and Mt. Hood hops, this straw colored beer is sure to please any craft beer drinker.

Moose Drool

The name sounds a little iffy, but it's really probably one of the best Brown Ales you'll ever taste. With it's chocolate brown color and creamy texture, Moose Drool is far and away the best-selling beer brewed in Montana.

A malty beer with just enough hop presence to keep it from being too sweet. The aroma mostly comes from the malt with a hint of spice added by the hops.

Beer Club Member's Special Savings

Save
10%

On any beer from our online Beer Shop.

Redeem at www.BeerOnTheWall.com
Excludes Club Membership

Club Members Only

BEER
on the wall